

BISHOP ON MISSION TO RECONCILE TWO CATHOLIC BRANCHES

High Prelate From London On Way To States Is Visiting In Honolulu

TELLS OF ZEPPELIN RAID ON METROPOLIS

Will Work On Mainland In Interest of Theosophical Society of Which He Is Member

On a mission to the United States for the Theosophical Society and also for conferences with the bishops of the Old Catholic Church, in America, Bishop James F. Wedgwood, presiding bishop of the Old Catholic Church of the British Empire, is staying at the Young Hotel, a visitor in the city until Wednesday, when he will sail on the Matsonia.

Round-the-world journeys in the age of submarines might be uncomfortable but the U-boats have not curtailed travel for Bishop Wedgwood, for he has come from London, via Australia, spending a year in the latter place, and expects to be in London again, via America, by October. He has traversed the Mediterranean three times since the war commenced.

The prelate is making his first visit to America, and is making his first acquaintance with the American branch of his church, which he understands has now three hundred thousand members. "They are making an attempt," stated Bishop Wedgwood last night, "to make this the national church of America. Naturally the Roman Catholic Church takes its complexion from Rome, while the Protestant Episcopal Church is related more or less to Canterbury. I know of no other division which is peculiarly American, and the ambition of this church, I believe, is to become that."

Mission of Reconciliation It will be Bishop Wedgwood's duty on the mainland to study the American branch, and the differences which exist between it and the British branch, with a view of reconciling them and strengthening both by a natural alliance. He is not, he stated last night, favorable to sectarian dispute and believes that amity should exist between all the divisions of Christianity.

The Old Catholic Church split with Rome several hundred years ago on the question of the infallibility of the Pope, and in the opinion of Bishop Wedgwood, has advanced in other matters to the point where it is more liberal than the Anglican church.

"The greater part of my mission in America, however," he continued, "is in the interests of the Theosophical Society, in which I have been actively interested for thirteen years. There is nothing in its teachings, I believe, conflicting with Christian tenets, but as a human interpreter supplements Christianity. Its ranks include not only Christians, but Buddhists, Jews, and others and for that matter, atheists also. It has religiously cosmopolitan qualities."

War Experiences His war experiences, he stated last night, have not been great, and on his first two trips through the Mediterranean, nothing occurred to mar the usual comfort of such a voyage. On the last occasion, however, he says that they were conveyed for part of the distance and were compelled to remain continually in life preservers. Nothing happened to them but a Greek vessel ahead of them, off Malta, was blown up by a submarine torpedo, making the greater exit from the mercantile marine through virtue of having ninety mines on board.

On his last stay in London the city was "Zeppeled," and he recalls gazing skyward at one of the murder engines directly above his home.

"It is curious that no sense of fear comes over you when watching the Zeppelins," he explained. "The most prominent feeling is that of intense interest. Anyway, what's the use of alarm? Either you're wiped out, or you're not."

On that occasion, however, the Zeppelins missed his home.

Is Nephew of Darwin Bishop Wedgwood comes from a prominent Staffordshire family, being a great-grandson of Josiah Wedgwood, founder of the great Staffordshire pottery which are world famous and among the proudest manufacturing interests in England. He is a great nephew of Charles Darwin whose mother was a Wedgwood and whose wife also was a Miss Wedgwood, both women coming from the same branch of the family.

RECORD LUAU HAS A THOUSAND GUESTS

HILLO, July 18.—To celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of his business, T. Machida, proprietor of the Machida Drug Store on Front Street, entertained over two thousand persons at a monster luau Sunday afternoon. The affair was held at Konaikan Beach, the home of Mr. Machida.

Decorated with ferns and flags of every conceivable size, shape and color, the grounds and buildings presented a gay sight. The menu was both lengthy and good, and a spirit of good fellowship and sociability was evident throughout the afternoon.

The luau was one of the most elaborate ever held on this island.

HILLO SUPERVISOR FOUND NOT GUILTY

Cause Celebre Which Set Hillo Agog Ends In a Dismissal

HILLO, July 19.—A. M. Cabrera, member of the board of supervisors, charged by the Territory with being on the premises of Mrs. Jose without lawful excuse, was discharged by Judge Delbert E. Metzger in the district court yesterday morning. In giving out his decision the judge said that, in his opinion Cabrera had received sufficient punishment, and he did not feel disposed to inflict any penalty.

Extending over a period of five days this case excited more than usual local interest. Yesterday, as on the occasion of former hearings, the court was filled to capacity, many being compelled to remain standing throughout the proceedings.

Taking the stand at nine o'clock yesterday morning, Cabrera told his side of the story which was in direct variance with that related by Mrs. Jose and other witnesses for the prosecution. The manner in which evidence was tendered by this witness, coupled with the interjections and banter from the officiating attorneys, was to say the least, humorous. Several times it took on the aspect of a comic opera.

In his cross-examination, Attorney Carlsmith was very exacting. He pinned closely into the movements of Cabrera in respect to the case, much to the apparent chagrin of Attorney Russell and his client.

Cabrera had a tendency throughout his hearing to volunteer considerable information, and after several arguments between the attorneys regarding his rights as to do, was instructed by the court to confine himself merely to the answering of questions. But try as he might, witness was unable to answer questions without the addition of further particulars.

At times Attorney Carlsmith became a trifle heated and put more or less sarcasm with his questions and remarks. Cabrera stood it for a considerable time, but finally exploded. "I would instruct the court," cried the witness, "to ask Mr. Carlsmith to pass no sarcastic remarks to me. I have feelings just the same as the prosecuting attorney."

DAVIES WAREHOUSE HAS COMPLETED ITS JOURNEY

Fourteen Hundred Ton Structure Moved Without Mishap

Yesterday saw the three-story brick warehouse of Theo. H. Davies & Co. moved to its new site and the building is now ready to be lowered to its foundation, whenever this may be completed. The structure was moved more than a hundred feet to make room for the extension of Bishop Street to the waterfront.

The work of moving the big warehouse was performed by D. and J. Sullivan, San Francisco contractors, the undertaking being the largest ever handled in the Territory. The work was accomplished without any mishap or accident and the building suffered absolutely no injury while in transit.

The warehouse is one hundred feet long, fifty feet wide, and thirty-four feet high, and weighs approximately 1400 tons, or 2,800,000 pounds. The contract price for moving the warehouse was $10,000.

RUSSIA PROHIBITS DESPATCH OF CHECKS

Special Department Will Deal With Foreign Securities

(By The Associated Press) PETROGRAD, July 18.—The Provisional Government has decided to prohibit provisionally the despatch of checks abroad, also the payments in rouble currency into the current accounts of Russian institutions abroad.

At the same time, the minister of finance has been authorized to set up a special department to deal with foreign securities. Transactions involving foreign securities can henceforth only be carried out through the intermediary of certain recognized credit institutions of which a list is drawn up by the minister of finance.

Breaches of this law are subject to various penalties ranging from fines to terms of imprisonment up to five years.

DECISIVE MAJORITY OPPOSED TO PEACE

(By The Associated Press) LIVERPOOL, July 12.—The decisive majority of the Russian people has no leaning to or connection with the movement in that country toward a separate peace, declared Sir Paul Vinogradoff, president of the Anglo-Russian Society of Petrograd, in an address he delivered here. Sir Paul predicted that there would be in Russia a recoil toward common sense and the adoption of a middle road between the extremists of the old regime and of the socialists.

Dealing with the future trade relationship between Great Britain and Russia, Sir Paul said the two chief questions were, credit to Russian traders and the best means of extending international commerce.

AIRPLANES MADE OF SITKA SPRUCE

It Is Found To Be Superior To Any Other For Lightness and Strength

(By The Associated Press) SEATTLE, July 18.—A steamer that arrived in Seattle June 28 brought the first shipment of Sitka spruce from Alaska for use in making airplanes. This wood is superior to any other for lightness and strength, and is 125 feet long without a knot or blemish and easily obtained. Much of this spruce already has been shipped to Europe from British Columbia, Oregon, and Washington. Sitka spruce is the dominant tree of the Alaska coast region, and for a long time was regarded with contempt by lumbermen and used only for fish boxes. Now it is the hope of the United States for paper pulp and airplane frames.

Russian botanists, with headquarters at Sitka, the old Russian capital of Alaska, discovered the tree, and gave it the specific name Sitka spruce, after the town. Later the tree was found to be identical with the colonial Sitka spruce of the Washington and Oregon coast, hollow trunks of which furnish room enough for a family to live in. These large trees are not valuable, for they are all evenly all brittle heartwood, whereas the white, new wood is desired. The tree in Alaska is not long lived, but the big spruce trees of Oregon and Washington are 500 years old or more.

The successful completion of this military course gives the thirty men a monthly increase in pay at the rate of five dollars for experts, three dollars for sharpshooters and two dollars for marksmen.

NEW ZEALAND DEALS WITH MINERS' STRIKE

Coal Mine Operatives Quickly Brought To Time On Charges of Seditious Conspiracy

(By The Associated Press) WELLINGTON, New Zealand, July 18.—Opposition to the enforcement of military conscription has resulted here in the sentencing of Patrick C. Webb, a labor member of the New Zealand house of representatives from Grey-mouth, to serve three months in jail for seditious language in advocating that miners in the district that he represented should resist conscription.

Nine officials of the miners union, members of which had gone on strike as a protest against the conscription act, were convicted of conspiracy to encourage a seditious strike and sentenced to prison for six to nine months, but subsequently were released under bonds. One of the nine union officials arrested was John Jones, President of the New Zealand Federation of Coal Miners. Although the miners were exempt from conscription, the government attorney charged that there was a deliberate effort on the part of the officials of the miners union to embarrass the government by limiting the production of coal in New Zealand. Counsel for the accused denied that the motive for the strike was to resist enforcement of the conscription act. There was a demand for a seventeen and one-half per cent increase in wages.

After the conviction of the miners' leaders, the effort to restrict coal production was abandoned and the government enforced the penalties against only two of the convicted men. An agreement was reached by the government and the miners under which the strike was declared off and work resumed.

In the following municipal elections the labor nominee for mayor at Grey-mouth was defeated. This was regarded as public disapproval of the miners' strike.

GOAT FLESH SOLD IN LIVERPOOL AS MUTTON

(By The Associated Press) LIVERPOOL, July 11.—Goat flesh is being sold as mutton in considerable quantities among the poorer classes in Liverpool. With the sheep brought over from Ireland there is always a certain proportion of goats, and these carcasses are now sold on the wholesale markets without distinction from those of the sheep and lambs. According to the local health authorities, there is no particular objection to this practice, as in the matter of taste and nutritive quality there is said to be very little difference between the two animals.

THIRTY MEN MAKE SPLENDID RECORD IN HILLO PRACTISE

Sixteen Experts, Ten Sharpshooters and Four Marksmen Are Among Them

(Mail Special To The Advertiser) HILLO, July 18.—Sixteen expert riflemen, ten sharpshooters and four marksmen is the result achieved by thirty men of B Company, Twenty-fifth Infantry, who just have completed their military course on the local range.

Considering that the shooting was somewhat hampered by adverse weather, the achievement must be regarded as excellent, as it is superior to the showing of any Honolulu company to date.

The successful completion of this military course gives the thirty men a monthly increase in pay at the rate of five dollars for experts, three dollars for sharpshooters and two dollars for marksmen.

In order to facilitate the shooting of the prescribed course, and to do away with any unnecessary delay, Capt. Alexander J. McVah, who arranged the plans so that only thirty men attend the range at one time. Heretofore the whole company has gone to the range, and in consequence much time is wasted between the firing. The next thirty men will commence their course today.

The military regulations provide that ten shots are fired at 300, 500 and 800 yards, and ten shots rapid fire at each 300, 500 and 800 yards. At the latter ranges the shots are to be fired within the space of one minute.

The official scores of the men to date are as follows:

SUSPECT ARRESTED FOR BURNING CANE

Porto Rican Taken Into Custody Charged With Burning Over Field of Hundred Acres

(Mail Special To The Advertiser) HILLO, July 20.—Advices from Kona-hale say the cane fire which burned over nearly a hundred acres of cane on that plantation last week, and which was thought to have been of an incendiary nature, had further developments when a Porto Rican laborer was taken into custody, charged with the malicious act.

The man was arrested in Honolulu, and while he maintains his innocence, there is said to be circumstantial evidence which points to his connection with the case. There will probably be others implicated if pending developments should materialize.

COLLINS SETS RECORD

CHICAGO, July 5.—E. W. Collins, second baseman of the Chicago Americans, has established a record for participating in consecutive games, according to figures compiled by the official statistician of the American League.

Collins has played in 60 games this season, bringing his total consecutive games up to 379. The previous record was held by George Burns of the New York Nationals, who played in 371 contests.

CHANG HSUN DISAPPEARS FROM PEKING, IS REPORT

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji) TOKIO, July 20.—Gen. Chang Hsun, who has made an effort to restore a monarchy in China, has been spirited out of Peking. The Dutch minister has informed Tuan Chi Jui, the premier, that he does not know where Chang is.

Following a fierce attack on Peking, the monarchist was forced to flee to the Japanese legation. He was later sent to the Dutch legation, and from there was transferred to the German legation, where a number of German and Austrian soldiers are on guard.

M'GRAW RECITES VERY FISHY YARN

He Said Interview About Tender Was "All Right" But Didn't Read It

NEW YORK, July 7.—Directors of the National league, at a meeting yesterday, granted John J. McGraw's request for additional time in the reopening of his case. The inquiry has been postponed for one week. Manager McGraw asked for more time in order to procure witnesses from Pittsburgh, who are alleged to have been present when he was interviewed by four New York newspaper men, whose stories quoting him in casting reflections on President Tener of the National league, were later repudiated by McGraw.

The four newspaper men whose stories McGraw repudiated in a signed statement prepared by the National league, testified about the now famous interview, while the manager of the Giants was cross-examined by counsel for the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association.

The baseball writer who obtained the alleged original interview which reflected on the ability of President Tener, of the National league, testified that McGraw, in substance, and later submitted to him later by McGraw for his O. K. after giving a resume of it to the other writers with the team. McGraw stated all he had said when asked for an interview on the fact that "I don't care a d— what you say."

The New York club manager further stated he did not read the manuscript submitted to him later by McGraw, who he said returned it with a general remark that it was "all right." On cross-examination he admitted he never had questioned the veracity of the stories. He further said that up to yesterday's meeting he never had read any part of the principal interview, except two or three paragraphs written by the president of the New York club.

Angels Take Second Place in Coast League; Portland and Vernon Divide

(By The Associated Press) LYONS, Fresno, July 10.—Navigation of the river Rhone and the proposed canal lateral to the Rhone with electricity as the motive power was the subject of discussion, by representatives of the Rhone departments of France who met here recently.

The conference recommended that work on the new canal be commenced without waiting for the end of hostilities. The foundation also asks that, in all concessions for the utilization of the water power of the Upper Rhone, sufficient electric current be reserved to furnish power for the navigation of the Rhone and the canal.

The delegates were agreed that the early realization of the project will help largely to relieve the congestion of traffic and decrease fuel requirements. The project also comprises the irrigation of land needing it between Lyons and Marseilles. This is a part of the great canal project prepared in 1874 by M. de Freycinet, recently minister of state in Aristide Briand's cabinet.

San Francisco couldn't beat a carpet any more. The Seals dropped a double-header to Los Angeles yesterday, 4 to 5 and 1 to 2. This split the series at three games each, one having been a tie. Salt Lake also lost a double-header, Oakland taking two, 11 to 0 and 4 to 2, and this, with Los Angeles' win, put the Angels in second place. Oakland won four of six games.

Portland alone could not keep up the pace. The Beavers divided a double-header with Vernon, but they won five of seven played. Should the play of the next two weeks be like that of the last two, the Coast race will be all tangled up and any team, except Vernon, might take the lead.

No games are scheduled for today. Yesterday's results:
At Oakland—Oakland 11, Salt Lake 6; Oakland 4, Salt Lake 2.
At Los Angeles—Los Angeles 5, San Francisco 4; Los Angeles 2, San Francisco 1.
At Portland—Portland 5, Vernon 4; Vernon 3, Portland 5.

COAST LEAGUE WILL FINISH ITS SCHEDULE

PORTLAND, July 8.—Despite the decision of the Northwestern Baseball League directors to give up the ghost, the Coast League will finish its schedule, declared Judge W. W. McCredie of Portland, before departing on an automobile trip to his hot springs in Lane County.

"I am not surprised that the Northwestern League has found it advisable to quit," said the Portland magistrate. "None of the cities has been drawing well. I am giving to understand the new Shipbuilders' League in Seattle has hurt professional baseball there tremendously."

"We are not making any money now in the Coast League, but I believe the league will continue its schedule, even if the owners have to shoulder a deficit."

Judge McCredie was asked if there would be baseball next year if the war lasts that long.

"If the war still is on next year it would be far better for the Coast League and the Northwestern League to shut up shop," declared Judge McCredie. "It would be impossible for us to run unless the players would accept contracts calling for about 30 per cent what they are getting now. I don't blame the players for trying to get as much money out of their livelihood as possible. Yet it is not business for the owners to give them more money than is taken in at the gate."

Judge McCredie intimated that the receipts from the series at Los Angeles a week ago were pitifully small. This is interesting, in view of the fact that Los Angeles has carried on for two or three years to have Portland bunched out of the league.

"Instead of kicking Portland out of the Coast League should begin looking around with a view to expansion," he said. "Seattle rightfully and geographically belongs in the Coast League, and when baseball is resumed in the Sound city it would be nice to have it in the Coast League with an eighth franchise in Sacramento or San Diego."

COLLEGES AND "Y'S" ADOPT SAME RULES

NEW YORK, July 7.—F. W. Luehring of Princeton University, chairman of the committee on swimming rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, has announced that future swimming competitions in colleges and Young Men's Christian Association branches would be conducted under rules formulated by a joint committee of the two bodies. On the committee of the two bodies, are W. B. Ball, D. B. Brink and E. J. Norton of the Y. M. C. A.; R. F. Nelligan, Amherst; D. B. Reed, University of Chicago, and C. D. Truherbank, Columbia.

The rules of the National Collegiate Association have been adopted by the joint committee for all events except the high diving. For this competition the Y. M. C. A. rules have been added to the code.

A rule was also agreed upon restricting individual competition in three events for each athlete in a single meet.

The college rules governing water polo were adopted, and Chairman Luehring was instructed to write to the various Y. M. C. A. associations proposing that water polo be taken up as a competitive event. Subsequent will formulate rules on water basketball, baseball and soccer polo.
